More light.

It is badly needed.

It takes preparation to furnish the power.

Just when it will be turned on is not known.

As soon as the weather settles road working in Adair county should begin.

President Wilson will continue to use his best efforts to bring about peace.

There is no tangible reason for food stuff being so high. The price on meats, especially, is outrageously high.

Quite a number of prospective county candidates will be in Columbia next Monday, the opening of circuit court.

An effort is now being made for another bridge across Green river, near Dulworth. Solicitors are now out with subscription papers.

Tom White, who was implicated with Curt Jett, in the assassination of Tom Marcum, has been paroled.

Governor Stanley is not likely to call an extra session of the Legislature, and he is right. One would cost the State one hundred thousand dollars.

It now looks like the foreign war will continue indefinitely. Germany is manufacturing cannon and smaller arms daily, and the French, English and Russians are just as busy.

Dr. T. R. Moore, a well-known Democrat, of Franklin county, in announcing for the legislature states that he is not only "dry," but "bone dry." He favors a State wide amendment.

Flem D. Sampson, of Barbourville, the newly elected Judge of the Court of Appeals, from the Seventh district, was sworn in last week. He resigned as Circuit Judge for his present position.

It is Cumberland county's time to select a representative for Adair and Cumberland. We have not heard of a candidate from either party. The district is largely Republican. We hope that a competent gentleman will be selected.

A report from Budapest by way of London quoted the Hungarian Premier as saying the peace terms of the Teutonic Allies were in the hands of President Wilson. Another version of the same dispatch quoted the Premier as saying that they were ready to be submitted to the President. A confidential forecast of the Entente Allies' answer to his note has been received by President Wilson.

Causes and Results of War.

Twenty-four months and 20 days ago, Tuesday, on July 29, 1914, the first shot was fired in the European war.

Six days previous to that, July 23, 1914, Austria sent her ultimatum to Serbia, demanding that Serbia punish the assassins of the Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his wife, the Duchess of Hohenberg.

This ultimatum was, to all intents and purposes, the start of the war that has engulfed Europe in the most stupendous armed conflict of all time.

The Austrian nobles were murdered by a Serbian student, who had conspired with others on June 28, 1914.

Peace efforts, made by England, France and Russia, proved fruitless, and on July 28, 1914, Austria formally declared war on Serbia. The following day an Austrian force attacked Belgrade the Serbian capital.

Thus the first shot of the war actually was fired on July 29.

Meantime Germany had refused to recognize the peace conference urged by England. Russia and France were mobilizing.

Then on July 30, Germany sent an ultimatum to Russia, demanding that mobilization stop, Russia, ignoring the Kaiser, declared war on Czar.

Germany did not declare war on France until August 3. The following day England entered the war against Germany.

In rapid succession, on August 5, Austria declared war on Russia, Montenegro on Austria and Belgium on Germany.

Since that time practically the whole of Europe has become either embroiled in the fighting or seriously affected as neutrals.

The latest estimate of losses placed the grand total of dead, wounded and prisoners as upward of 17,000,000.

Russia's loss of 5,500,000 is almost matched by Germany's estimated casualties of 4,000,000.

Austro-Hungary is given 2,760,000 dead, wounded and missing.

Great Britain is given 800,000, France 2,300,000, Italy 400,000, Belgium 180,000, Serbia 230,000, Turkey 500,000 and Bulgaria 50,000.

These figures, of course, are calculated as approximately as possible upon reports supplied by the war bureaux of each country, as well as the estimates of one country of the losses inflicted upon another country.

Since Canada actively entered the war in support of Great Britain it has sent 377,000 men to the front, and of these 65,680 have been killed, wounded or captured.

On November 29, James W. Gerard, United States Ambassador, told President Wilson informally that Emperor William of Germany was ready for peace "on terms satisfactory to Germany."

Since that time have come the rout of Roumania, the capture of Bucharest and the cabinet crises in England and France.

Fatal Fight in Casey County.

Danville, Ky., Dec. 26.—William Benedict, Sr., was shot and instantly killed, four other persons were wounded, and a number of others suffered minor injuries in a shooting affray at the Christmas tree celebration of the Harris Creek School, at Lincoln, Casey county, eight miles south of Danville, last week.

The injured were: George Thornton shot in leg; William Benedict, Jr., son of the dead man, shot in ankle; Bourbon Galloway, shot in right arm, and Mike Gaddis, shot in leg.

The school children had gathered at the schoolhouse for their annual Christmas tree celebration, given by Miss Minell Prewitt, of Moreland, teacher. The building was packed with children and visitors.

A disturbance was created by Thos.
Thornton, who, it is alleged, had been drinking, when Mr. Benedict arose and asked that order be restored. It is said that George Thornton, a brother of Thos., left the building and returned with a revolver.

It is not known who fired the first shot, but a general shooting followed his entrance into the room. People ducked between the seats, fell to the floor and jumped through the windows and doors to escape the bullets, and a number received cuts and bruises in escaping. All of the per-ticipants had been on good terms previously as neighbors and there had been no bad blood between them.

Winter Brings Colds to Children.

A child rarely goes through the whole winter without a cold, and every mother should have a reliable remedy handy. Fever, sore throat, tight chest and croupy coughs are sure symptoms.
A dose of Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey will loosen the phlegm, relieve the congested lungs and stop the cough. Its antiseptic pine balsams heal and soothe. For croup, whooping cough and chronic bronchial troubles try Dr.
Bell's Pine Tar Honey. At Paul Drug Co., 25c.

Thomas Cochran, who went to New York sixteen years ago, penniless, is now a partner with J. P. Morgan.

Fonthill.

Mrs. Dora Irvin is quite feeble at this writing.

At one time turkey was prepared for Christmas, but owing to the wild varmints that inhabit the hills, turkey raising here is almost a thing of the past.

Mr. Bert Butcher, one of our best citizens, has moved to his farm on Green river. Mr. Butcher was an industrious gentleman and respected by all who knew him, always ready to assist those in need. We wish for him a happy and prosperous future.

S. B. Richardson has moved near Decatur, within a stone's throw of the sparkling waters of Goose creek.

James Volinger has recently moved into our midst. He is one of the best blacksmiths we ever knew, and will do business at this place.

Willie Meece, a prominent farmer, of Bunker Hill, has moved into our midst.

R. C. Cooper has erected a new dwelling that has added greatly to the appearance of his farm.

Owing to advance age Uncle Tom Meece has moved into the house with F. H. Austin. We feel sure he will be properly cared for.

Rakestraw & Hopper have moved their saw mill to Irvin's Store, and are doing a nice business.

Claburn Swanson, who resided here, has moved to the thriving village of Salem. We wish him a prosperous future.

Otho Shepherd, who has resided in Illinois for more than two years, has returned home for a winter vacation.

Winter is here in its splendor, and since its appearance many whom we knew have crossed the silent river of death. We are made to feel that they had made preparation to meet the Lord in peace.

Danger Signal.

If the fire bell should ring would you run and stop it or go and help to put out the fire? It is much the same way with a cough. A cough is a danger signal as much as a fire bell. You should no more try to suppress it than to stop a fire bell when it is ringing, but should cure the disease that causes the coughing. This can nearly always be done by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Many have used it with the most beneficial results. It is especially valuable for the persistent cough that so often follows a bad cold or an attack of the grip. Mrs. Thomas Beeching, Andrews, Ind., writes:
"During the winter my husband takes cold easily and coughs and coughs.
Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best medicine for breaking up these attacks and you cannot get him to take any other." Obtainable at Paul Feed the Birds.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 20, 1916
Editor The News,

Dear sir:
You will please publish the following for the benefit of those who want to protect the birds:

The Game and Fish Commission is of course interested in the wild life of this State and want to stimulate the interest of the lovers of nature in the protection of song, insectivorous and game birds, and we appeal to you as the chief source of publicity in your section to use the columns of your paper in placing before the public an appeal for the protection of the birds.

At this period of the year with the ground all frozen and covered with ice and snow these little feathered neighbors of ours are facing famine.
They cannot raise trembling hands and beg for charity, so we forget their needs, and since they cannot speak for themselves their friends should never cease to do it for them in the same old words, winter after winter.
"Do not clear away the wild hedges—leave some shocks of corn in your field, scatter grain sweepings in likely places, fasten suet to your orchard trees, and spread a lunch counter under your window out of the reach of CATS."

The tenderness engendered from a simple service of this kind is as satisfying to the soul as prayer.

I am sure you will bring to the attention of your readers the necessity for this little bit of charity towards the birds.

of Kentucky.
